Report Of Victory Boys And Girls

The Victory Boys and Girls campaign conducted last week met with hearty response. We have been unable as yet to get reports from all of the schools of this district which we hope to later but last Friday, Hamilton reported $46, Cambrian, $100.75 and Campbell, $170.96, its total for 70 subscribers. The list of those who pledged $5 each, the real goal of the drive, is as follows:

Marion Smith, Pauline Baker, Alice Strom, Irma Young, Henrietta Toles, Marie Purmort, Dorothy Gross, Florence Thurston, Helen Beal, Marjorie Dunning, Annette Merrill, Jessie Johnson, Glenn Chauvin, Irwin Henry, Windsor Cutting, Stephen Merrill, Vern Sawyer, Howard Paddock, Edwin Mitchell, Joe Furtado, Graham Peake, Frank Alexander and George Osborn.

National Dry Victory Overwhelming

On the fifth of the month, four States—Ohio, Nevada, Wyoming and Florida—voted out the liquor traffic. This makes thirty-two States which have adopted State-wide prohibition.

In addition to these thirty-two states, five so-called wet states—Kentucky, Maryland, Delaware, Massachusetts and Louisiana—have ratified the National Prohibition Amendment.

Thus, thirty-seven states of the Union have either adopted State-wide prohibition or have ratified the National Prohibition Amendment.

This leaves only eleven states that have neither adopted prohibition nor ratified the amendment. These eleven states that have neither adopted prohibition nor ratified the amendment, are California, Connecticut, Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont and Wisconsin.

Of these eleven States at least two, California and Vermont, have elected Legislatures that will vote to ratify the National Prohibition Amendment. In addition to these two, reports from Missouri and New Jersey indicate that those two States will also ratify, while Minnesota is reported to have elected a pro-ratification Legislature, and came so near to adopting State-wide prohibition this year that it was for days reported in the prohibition column. Returns from the other six States have not been received at this office, so we are not prepared to say just how wobbly the wets are in the six States that remain to them.

But inasmuch as the wets to defeat prohibition must block ratification in at least thirteen States, without further information from the six States yet to be heard from, it is quite evident that Mr. Hilliard Welch, the gentleman whom the California winemen sent to Washington to fight prohibition, was correct in his report to his clients when he said that the "most pessimistic among the liquor element believe that the Sheppard National Prohibition Amendment will have been ratified by the necessary thirty-six States by next February," while "the most optimistic believe that it will not be ratified until next May."

The Legislatures of all the States, with the exception of those which have already ratified, convene early in January. Indications are that the most pessimistic of liquor men are justified in their opinion that ratification by the necessary thirty-six States will have been accomplished by February. At any rate, the dries are justified in their contention that ratification by the necessary thirty-six States is as certain as anything political can be certain.

The W. A. Merrill family and Mrs. David Craig motored to San Francisco Monday for a couple of days sight-seeing. Mr. Merrill purchased a car with which to tour California, expecting to visit Pacific Grove, Los Angeles and other places of interest.

for the Round Dollar

Don't Wait Too Long!

There is this quality in a good proposition: the longer you study it, the better it looks. But even the wisest of us occasionally miss a good opportunity by needless delay of decision.

This reflection suggests something: Perhaps you haven't realized, fully, that the coming Christmas (it is time to think of Christmas) is to mark a change of habits. We've all been spending freely, in past years, at the holiday season. This year we shall spend less, for two reasons: In the first place, we are short of money; in the second place, needless spending wouldn't be right—instead, we'll give to public needs.

But one must not forget one's friends—that wouldn't do! That's why our photograph proposition—an inexpensive way of providing Christmas remembrances—of renewing old ties of friendship and affection—that's why our photograph proposition is so valuable. Consider this: Just purchase of necessities to the amount of $3 punched on a trading card—the card presented at Boussum's Studio in San Jose—a payment of $4.95 for $10.50 worth of your own likenesses—that's all.

It's a mighty good proposition. Don't procrastinate. Ask for trading card, today!

Supper A Pleasant Affair

The fellowship supper held at the Congregational church Friday evening proved a thoroughly enjoyable occasion, as social affairs of all kinds have been in abeyance for so long that everyone enjoyed the opportunity of getting together in a pleasurable way again.

The tables were all filled and a large overflow filled one a second time. Altho the ban has been somewhat lifted on food, still the lessons in conservation and substitutes have been so thoroughly instilled that they were evidenced in the menu, which altho abundant, was not exactly of a pre-war type.

Later in the evening entertainment was furnished thru the reading by Mrs. L. F. Shaw of a Thanksgiving story, full of quaint and original humor, and also the telling of one. Evelyn Henry sang two pretty solos and then Rev. Preston was asked to make a few remarks. He expressed the thanks of himself and Mrs. Preston, in whose honor the occasion was planned, for the opportunity of meeting the members of the Congregation socially, and added a few words touching the future of the church.

Owing to illness, part of the numbers of the program had to be omitted, but the company joined in a general sing of both sacred and patriotic songs. As people left for their homes, many expressions of pleasure over the evening were heard.

Dr. W. I. Merrill was home for the week-end, his first release from quarantine, and again for Thanksgiving. The middle of December, Mrs. Merrill and the children will go to Berkeley where they have engaged an apartment, as the doctor can then be home every night. The length of their stay is uncertain, depending upon when the doctor may be relieved.

APPLES WILL BE PLENTIFUL

Increase in Barreled Crop More Than Makes Up for Decrease in Boxes —New York Gains.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Commercial apples will be more plentiful this year than in 1917. This prospect is more especially true for the barreled crop than for the entire commercial crop, because the boxed crop of California and the Pacific northwest will be below that of 1917. Based on July conditions, the prospective commercial apple crop has the promise of 25,711,000 barrels (boxes being expressed in terms of barrels), or 15 per cent above 1917. The increase of the crop that is marketed in barrels is estimated at 34 per cent, while for the boxed crop a decrease of 17 per cent is indicated.

Distinctive apple producing regions are known to the trade and are becoming known to the general public. This year, the most prominent region for barreled apples is western New York, where a commercial crop of 5,320,000 barrels is indicated, compared with last year's crop of only 1,118,000 barrels. Next in prominence, this year, is the Shenandoah-Cumberland district, extending from Virginia through Maryland into Pennsylvania. The indicated crop is 1,973,000 barrels, a slight relative gain over 1917. The western Michigan crop, this year, will increase to 756,000 barrels from 350,000 in 1917, according to the July estimate; the crop of the Champlain district of New York and Vermont, to 174,000 barrels from 120,000 in 1917; of the Rome Beauty district in southern Ohio, to 258,000 barrels from 122,000 in 1917.

Other barreled apple districts decline in prospect. The New England Baldwin belt declines from 750,000 barrels in 1917 to 651,000 in 1918; the Hudson Valley, from 1,074,000 barrels to 826,000; the Piedmont district of Virginia, from 485,000 barrels to 371,000; southern and western Illinois, from 1,300,000 barrels to 936,000; the Ozarks, from 793,000 barrels to 546,000, and the Missouri river region, from 1,239,000 barrels to 882,000.

The commercial apples that are marketed in barrels will amount to 18,601,000 barrels this year, it is estimated, against 13,856,000 barrels in 1917, and of this production 29 per cent will come from western New York and 39 per cent from that district and the Shenandoah-Cumberland district combined.

RIGHT WEIGHT OF CHICKENS

Make Selection in Fall of Well-Developed Pullets to Make Up Winter Laying Flock.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Observations on the growth of chickens at the government poultry farm at Beltsville, Md., showed that pullets of average size of the varieties kept there reached their adult weights as in the following table:

Breed and Variety.	Average Age at which weight at maturity was made	Weight in pounds
White Plymouth Rock.....	28	6.97
White Wyandotte.....	26	5.17
Rhode Island Red.....	26	4.48
White Leghorn.....	26	3.14

Pullets of these breeds and those of corresponding type and weight that reach the weights given in the table or are very near them in September will begin laying by October if conditions are favorable. The two conditions which most commonly delay egg production from such pullets are change to winter quarters and shortage of feed.

BARROOM IS NOW USED BY Y. M. C. A.

French Town's Most Popular Drink Emporium Is Bought at Auction.

SODA INSTEAD OF ABSINTHE

American Girl in Sky Blue Uniform Attends to the Wants of the Thirsty Soldiers and Sailors.

By ROY DURSTINE.

Paris.—In the very heart of a French port town, where traffic is thickest, there stood a barroom. It was just at the point where a sailor's or soldier's thirst was greatest as he trudged up the hill. It did a rattling good business, such a good business that the authorities kept a special eye on it.

Whenever a military policeman had nothing better to do, he would stroll up to this bar to see how many men were draped over it.

Accordingly, its trade languished, for there are more desirable things to do than to be a consistent drinker in the most conspicuous place in town.

Before long the madame found that her business had fallen on evil ways. Her success had been so great that it had failed!

Bids for Y. M. C. A.

A public sale was announced—a sale of all the, oh, so beautiful fixtures. Without thought of price, everything would go beneath the hammer of the auctioneer. Everyone in town knew of it. And when you say "everyone," you include Arthur S. Taylor, who used to be a newspaper man in Philadelphia, and who is now the head of the Y. M. C. A. in the district of the port town.

So he went to the sale. And when the bidding fell off, and the madame wring her hands because the price was so low, then up stepped Mr. Taylor, and bought all the fixtures for the Y. M. C. A.

After that he dickered with the landlord, and came to an agreement which permitted him to leave the fixtures where they were, to leave the bar where it was—but to change what passed across the bar.

That was only a little while ago. But today, as you mount the hill of the town, as you see the doors of the bar stretching out their invitation to bring in your thirst and have it quenched, you will see a strange thing. Over the door you will see in large letters the words:

The Red Triangle.

Inside, behind the bar, you will see an American girl in the sky blue uniform of the canteen worker. And you will see sailors and soldiers leaning their elbows on the shining mahogany and hear them say things like:

"Give us a chocolate milk-shake."

"Make mine pineapple."

"How's the Y. M. special today?"

"Package of cookies and two strawberry sodas."

Think of it! Sodas, in France! And yet this is only one of three places in

YANKS DIE WITH FACES TO THE FOE

Valiant Spirit of Fallen Men Is Typified in Attitudes of the Dead.

TROOPS EAGER FOR BATTLE

Ever Crouching Forward With Their Faces Toward Germany, Impatient to Make World Safe for Humanity.

Paris.—Chaplains of two Yankee regiments that stormed the slope above the Ourcq river came wearily back at sundown from the task of burying their dead. They were two men spiritually uplifted and their eyes were shining as they made their brief but eloquent report.

"In all that battlefield," they said, "we found, without a single exception, that every one of those boys died crouching forward."

That short dramatic story—a patriotic eulogy that was an epitaph for American heroes—came first under my eye when, after a three weeks' journey of 4,000 miles, I reached Paris.

Faces Ever Eastward.

Stories of the valiant American spirit are old. Yet the proud words of the chaplains were tremendously impressive. They interpreted the spirit of America on the fighting line in the same terms as I had seen it among the fresh troops in the convoy across the Atlantic, in England, in the French port and in the trip across France—troops yet to face the Hun.

Thousands were in that convoy. And their faces were ever toward Germany. They were grim faces of serious-minded, silent men during the tedious ocean trip—silent, strangely, until actually on French soil.

Then they underwent a change. The curtain of solemnity seemed to lift. The frown of impatience at delay was gone and, in contrast to the silence in which they had received the homage of British crowds, they sang rollicking war songs, laughed and cracked jokes and replied with a Yankee roar to the chorus of welcome French crowds gave them.

Their faces were away from the set-

Prays That God Will Damn German Empire

Cleveland.—Not irreverently, but with much feeling, Dr. W. H. Crawford, president of Allegheny college, brought "Amen" from the throats of 2,000 Methodist divines in this city when he prayed fervently for "God to damn the German empire." He had just returned from a year and a half service with the Y. M. C. A. on the western front.

that one port town where the Y. M. C. A. has a soda fountain.

Beside the bar sits another American girl selling soda checks and, in the hills, changing the record on the phonograph. Nothing old about those records, either. With New York just "a few days away," the supply of tunes is kept up to the minute.

In the back room there are small tables and chairs. Those who prefer to rest as they drink may do so. And many do.

"You see, I figured it out this way," said Mr. Taylor, as he looked over the blue-and-olive-drab shoulders packed along the bar, "I figured it out that half the attraction of a bar is the sociability of drinking slowly and gossiping while you do it. And, you see, it is!"

ting sun as they waited in the French port for the trains to take them to France. Their eyes gazed longingly to the east, and they eagerly strained forward as if to hear the far-off boom of the guns.

Every one of these Yankee soldiers, fresh from the homeland, was crouching forward—as did the heroes the chaplains told of—with their faces toward Germany.

A complete division, commanded by an American major general, disembarked. And it was just one unit, one convoy of the unending stream that Uncle Sam is sending across.

Chafe at Long Wait.

The only worry was whether it would be a long wait before it was their turn "at bat" against the Hun.

Submarine rumors hadn't frightened them on the way across the ocean. They had drilled daily, as best they could in the cramped ship's area. They had taken daily exercise to keep them healthful and fit. And they had stood guard, in turn, with eyes "peeled" for submarines—mostly hopeful that one would turn up just for the delight of seeing an American destroyer bomb it out of all usefulness.

There was a boat drill daily on the convoy; each man answered roll call in his allotted place beside a lifeboat. And constantly, save in sleep, each man had to wear a life preserver strapped about his chest and back.

Now they're at the end of the long journey—in France along with a million and a half fighting men from the United States. They're showing early that great American spirit—crouching forward, with their faces toward Germany, impatient to make the world unsafe for Huns.

It's a pity Kaiser Bill couldn't have stood on the dock at that French port when they landed—just to see them.

Dead Men Convicted.

St. Louis, Mo.—When a decision reached the court of criminal correction here recently from the supreme court affirming the conviction of Israel Schucart, for adulterating soda water in violation of the pure food law, it was found that both Schucart and his bondsmen were dead. Schucart died a year ago, while his bondsmen passed away five months ago.

Camouflaging Mutilated Faces

Wonderful Work Being Done to Hide Hideous and Shattered Features the Surgeons Cannot Help

"Camouflage of Mercy" is the term by which many describe the work being carried on by Anna C. Ladd, the sculptor, under the auspices of the American Red Cross. It is a wonderful work for soldiers whose faces have been hideously mutilated by German of the mangle's face, and then from pre-war photographs, or descriptions furnished by friends, builds up in clay or plaster the missing parts until the cast is a good likeness of the man as he was. From this cast a thin copper mask is made and then plated with silver. This is fitted perfectly and the camouflage is held in place by a pair of spectacles. The final stage is to paint the mask so that it is practically indistinguishable.

In the accompanying illustration it will be noted that the mutilation has not been so general and the pair of spectacles with eyes painted in disks behind the glasses serve to change this shells. Mrs. Ladd is the wife of Dr. Maynard Ladd, medical adviser of the American Red Cross, but her work has nothing to do with medicine.

In many hospitals, of course, plastic surgery is doing much to build up shattered faces. Mrs. Ladd, however, finds her subjects among those whom the surgeons cannot help. They are soldiers whose faces have been so shot to pieces that they present a hideous spectacle, one which their friends and relatives prepare to shun. The sufferers realize this and become very unhappy and sensitive and are inclined to hide themselves away from their fellow-beings. Mrs. Ladd has become greatly interested in the work of Captain Dervent, who improved on the gelatine and rubber formerly used, and made metal masks. To make these masks, Mrs. Ladd takes a plaster cast

FOR THE POULTRY GROWER

When the first cold weather of the season comes there is a temptation to close the poultry houses quite tightly in the belief that the fowls confined in them need that protection from the increasing cold. It is true that the fowls must be protected, but if they receive so much protection that fresh air is kept out of the house they will suffer more from breathing bad air than they would from a little lower temperature.

The air in a tightly closed building soon becomes laden with impurities from the breath of the fowls and from the filth that accumulates. To breathe this air over and over again is to take back into the system many of the impurities that the system is trying to throw off. As the oxygen of the air becomes exhausted it can give less and less heating elements to the body of the fowl and gradually the fowl's power of resistance to cold is reduced.

Unless there is sufficient ventilation to keep the air reasonably pure the house becomes damp and in time moisture collects on the walls, which in cold weather turns to frost. These are some of the reasons why sufficient ventilation should be provided at all times and why the hen houses should not be closed tightly at the approach of cold weather. Drafts, however, must not be allowed to blow on the fowls, particularly when they are on the roosts at night.

Montana Farmers Are Badly In Need of Water on Land.

"Water on our lands during 1917 and 1918 would have meant thousands of dollars to this country, to the farmers, and to the city people," the executive committee in charge of irrigation in the Flathead county farm bureau, Montana, writes. The Flathead county farm bureau is determined that the drought conditions of the present season shall not be repeated and has made irrigation one of its major lines of work for the year. Different localities will handle the problem in different ways. Irrigation in this valley will make it possible for the farmers to change from straight grain farming to the practice of a diversified system employing live stock as well as the necessary crops.

Boy Scouts Locate Walnut At the President's Request.

About 15,000,000 feet of black walnut timber has been located and its existence reported to the forest service by the boy scouts since they were called upon by the president to assist the government in locating this timber for gunstock and propeller material. The boy scouts send the reports to the forest service, where the information is compiled and then forwarded to the war department. The government itself is not buying the walnut, but sends out the information to manufacturers working on government contracts.

Great Demand in Vienna for Watchdogs and Prices Have Been Raised in Proportion.

The increasing insecurity of life and property in Vienna has brought about a great demand for good watchdogs, according to the following interview with an official of the Vienna Animal hospital, printed in a recent issue of the Neues Wiener Journal:

"It is a fact that persons frequently come here early in the morning seeking dogs before our office hours begin. Most of them are wives of business men, foremen, professional men and others, who have been called to the colors, but there are also women who have learned that we have nice dogs for distribution and, consequently, come looking for these faithful and trustworthy guardians, especially in view of the wholesale robberies and the sinister activities of numerous gangs of youthful thieves. As you know, a close watch has to be kept over the power belts in the factories to prevent their disappearance, as is also the case with lumber in the yards, and all kinds of goods in the stores and warehouses."

"Many women, whose husbands are at the front, are afraid to stay alone and wish at least to have a watchful animal with them to give warning of the presence of strangers at the door, through growling or barking. So the dog has become a much desired animal. People willingly pay the $4 tax and don't seem to worry about the problem of supplying the dog with food if they can thus get a keen-eyed and loyal guardian. Such dogs are very dear now. A 'Doberman' costs from $90 to $200; shepherds, up to $120; coachdogs, up to $40; fox terriers, from $15 to $20, and pure-blood 'Dackel,' from $12 to $20. Greyhounds and poodles, on the other hand, have gone out of style."

Whale Meat Has Been Used In Japan for Many Years.

For hundreds of years whale meat has been used for food in Japan. In the earliest books of Japanese history, there are accounts of the capture of whales, with nets, and the ceremonies which followed a successful haul. Nowadays the whale fisheries are conducted on an elaborate scale with modern fleets and expensive equipment provided by the government. Whale meat looks and tastes like beef. —People's Home Journal.

A Rural Compromise

A vacationist, just returned, relates having overheard this bit of bucolic dicker:

"Hiram, when are you going to pay them eight dollars for pasturin' your heifer? I've had her now for about ten weeks."

"Why, Sam, the critter ain't worth more'n ten dollars."

"Well, s'posin' I keep her for what you owe me?"

"Not by a jugful! Tell you what I'll do, though—keep her two weeks more an' you kin have her."

"Did your friend use crude oil on her furniture as I advised?"

"No; objected to anything which was not refined."

BOY SCOUT DOINGS.

Scouts at Jersey Shore, Pa., made two hikes to Williamsport, a distance of 15 miles, to attend the departure of Battery "D."

Chief of Police O'Neil of East Orange, N. J., recently made this statement: "East Orange is more free today of juvenile delinquency and crime than at any time in the history of the city. The boy scout movement is almost wholly responsible for this condition. It is the greatest work for boys in the world."

Nita (enviously)—Isn't that her luck? Now she'll have her picture in all the papers.

CALOMEL SELDOM SOLD HERE NOW

Nasty drug salivates, makes you sick and you lose a day's work.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.—Adv.

The Dentist's Troubles

The dentist has his troubles. After working on a woman who had an extravagant coiffure to impede his progress and handicap his manipulations, Dr. Pullen (right name withheld by advertising department), sighed his relief and motioned for her to arise.

The woman pulled herself together, looked into a mirror and then again seated herself in the chair.

"I am all through with your teeth," the dentist told her.

"I know," the woman answered, "but aren't you going to fix up my hair?"—Youngstown Telegram.

SUFFERING CATS! GIVE THIS MAN THE GOLD MEDAL

No humbug! Any corn, whether hard soft or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift out, without a particle of pain or soreness.

This drug is called freezone and is a compound of ether discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus.

Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the corn or callus will loosen and can be lifted off with the fingers.

This drug freezone doesn't eat out the corns or calluses but shrivels them without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Just think! No pain at all; no soreness or smarting when applying it or afterwards. If your druggist don't have freezone have him order it for you.—Adv.

SCOUTS HIKE IN THE HEAT.

During the hottest part of the warm weather eight scouts of Troop No. 5 of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., made a gypsy hike with their trek-cart over the 113 miles from that city to New York.

They did it in five days, this being an average of about 22 miles per day.

They carried on their trek-cart their full camp equipment, and slept out under the trees at night and cooked all their meals by day. Although the thermometer went up to 100 degrees, they made this record progress, and all arrived in fine shape, looking trim and fit and with a fine color of tan.

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well."

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. I relieved me from my troubles."

so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

If complications exist, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years experience is at your service.

In Less Than Five Months Hog Island, World's Largest Shipyard, Was Half Completed

A year or so ago Hog Island was a dismal morass of mud, stagnant water and tangled weeds. Not many months ago it was a national scandal. Today, says Popular Mechanics Magazine, it is the world's greatest shipyard. Labeled a "phantasmagoria of patriotic pretense" in the halls of congress, it became in the poisoned public mind, a national cancer fed by greed and corruption. Thus did German propaganda, their tools and puppets, for a time hinder the growth of one of the most powerful enemies of the Hun's U-boats.

In wartime, a day or an hour may shape a nation's destiny. The builders at Hog Island have realized this. Speed has been the watchword. Nothing but a world crisis could have produced in a few short months a single shipyard with a capacity one-fourth as great as the combined capacity of all the shipyards in Great Britain—until now the foremost shipbuilding nation of the world.

From the moment the first shovel of earth was excavated, September 22, 1917, until the present time, work has progressed in almost magic manner. In blinding snowstorms and in the teeth of zero winds, men thawed frozen ground with live steam and drove tens of thousands of wooden and concrete piles. They laid a maze of railway tracks, built piers, erected a forest of towers, constructed massive shops and supply depots, and in less than five months had the world's largest shipyard half completed and the keel of the first ship laid!

Hog Island has training schools where unskilled men and boys are given intensive instruction and in a few days or weeks made valuable workmen. It has its own hospitals, its recreation fields and buildings. It operates restaurants that serve thousands of meals daily without profit. It has an armed guard of 600 men, and a large, well-trained fire department. It goes in for welfare work. In short, it is a complete city without an unemployed man within its confines.

Merchantmen aggregating 8,000,000 tons are now flying the American flag. Think, then, what it means for the Hog Island shipyard to turn out between now and the close of 1919, ships totaling approximately 1,500,000 tons.

Economy.

"Paper is getting scarcer," exclaimed Doctor Dumkopf.

"Have you any suggestions?" inquired the Berlin official.

"Yes. In making agreements we should write our agreements with a slate pencil. We could clean off the slate as much as we like without wastefulness."

Encouragement.

"How did your war garden turn out?"

"Fine," answered Mr. Crosslots. "I raised enough weeds to prove that the soil would be simply wonderful for something else if I could make it grow."

He Can't Be Reached.

Excuses of Little Value.

The world does not want men who offer excuses in place of accomplishment.
Often it is compelled to accept excuses. Often it experiences genuine sorrow for the man who, instead of succeeding, brings back a satisfactory excuse for failure. But when the time for advancement comes, the man who is pushed forward is he who has done the work, who has not offered hard-luck stories in place of successful effort. In him confidence can be placed.

Million Cases of Pineapples.

During last year Hawaii exported a million cases of cured pineapple and 100,000 cases of the juice, and when it is understood that it takes a pineapple ten months to mature and that each plant bears only four pineapples
in its lifetime of three years, Hawaii's exportation of the fruit makes a creditable showing.

Fine Record

The students of Campbell Union High school are certainly proud of their patriotic spirit and the results they have accomplished.

Last week, the readers of this paper learned the sum of money that the school has produced, and to what sources the money was donated. No doubt you, too, were pleased with them.

Now, let me tell you what the students' scheme was this semester. During the Work Council Campaign, they decided to form a "Victory Boys and Girls" society. No one dreamed what results would be attained. Within one week from the day the drive started, a card with the following inscription was hanging in the High school assembly hall: This is a 100 per cent institution.

The amount subscribed was $338.50-total and the average approximately $2.90.

Now, why shouldn't they be proud!

Hyde Investment Co., buys the Campbell Water Co

A transaction of considerable importance to the community has just been closed, whereby the Hyde Investment
Co. has purchased the stock of E. R.
Kennedy and others, thereby obtaining control of the Campbell Water Co.

The plant of the Water Company adjoins the property company on South 1st Street.

It is the intention of the purchaser to make several improvements in its lately acquired property, which will be to the advantage of the community as well as the clientel served by its water mains.

The G. E. Hyde & Co. cannery uses a great quantity of water and had been discussing the sinking of a well for its own use, which this purchase obviates.

Chinese Cooks.

It is said by those who have employed them that the Chinese always cook by rule, if they have any rule to go by—following the receipt with the same scientific exactness with which the druggists put up a prescription.
Hence their results are equally satisfactory. They never burn or spoil anything, nor spill materials on the floor;
consequently, nothing that goes through their hands is wasted. They cook just enough and no more.—Hotel Gazette.

Can Only Be Sure of Today.

Today is your day and mine; the only day we have; the day in which we play our part. What our part may signify in the great whole we may not understand, but we are here to play it, and now is our time. . . .
It is a part of love, not cynicism. It is for us to express love in terms of human helpfulness. This we know, for we have learned from sad experience that any other source of life leads toward decay and waste.—David Starr Jordan.

Science Foretells Cyclones.

Cyclones may be anywhere from 50
to 500 miles in diameter, and may travel over a path 5,000 miles in extent.
Within a few years modern science has done much to increase our knowledge of cyclones and the sailor of today knows not only in what region to expect them, but he has also learned the path in which they move and direction of the wind.

Father of Punctuation.

The present system of punctuation,
now used in all modern languages with but insignificant variations, was introduced in the first half of the fifteenth century by a Venetian printer named Aldus Manutius. He is the real father of punctuation marks—of the full stop, comma, semicolon, colon, question and exclamation marks, apostrophe and inverted commas. Manutius' system was adopted later by all printers until it finally established itself throughout Europe.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Better to Go Slow.

If you try to live two days at once,
you divide up the strength with which you should be getting the very best out of the present. Every regretful lingering over past mistakes, every foreboding thought of what the future holds, diminishes your present efficiency by just so much.

Why Germany Did Not Conquer the World

Now that the war is over it is wise to take note of the lessons which we ought to have learned from it. We say ought to have learned, because there is a real danger that we may fail to learn them.

The war was won with comparative ease. Peace came sooner than most of us dared to hope. Our sacrifices were after all in most cases, inconsiderable, and our sufferings not to be compared with that of our allies in Europe. We may be tempted to take too much credit to ourselves and to congratulate ourselves unduly. To many careful thinkers a failure to learn the war's lessons would seem to be as great a tragedy as the war itself.

One of the most obvious lessons of the war is the futility of military preparedness, either to keep a nation out of war or to insure victory in war. Germany was thoroughly prepared. The United States were thoroughly unprepared. The conclusion is inevitable. Disarmament would be just as good for nations as it is for individuals. There was a time when every free man wore a sword. Let us be thankful that we do not live in those days of the world's history. In pioneer days every man carried a gun and to a certain extent, every man made his own laws, and enforced them. But it must be admitted that such customs do not tend to keep the peace of a community. Is it not about time that international law should replace national force of arms?

It would be hard to show any good military reason why Germany did not win the war during the first few months. No human power seemed able to prevent the Kaiser from eating his Christmas dinner in Paris in 1914 as he had planned to do. Indeed no human power did prevent that awful tragedy. The old Hebrew prophets, who were wise statesmen and in some cases able military leaders, would have said that the arm of Jehovah halted the Kaiser's victorious march, and turned him back by the way by which he came.

Beebe of Campbell, is reported lost in action on the fields of France. His friends had heard no word from him since the tenth of August when his parents received a very cheerful letter in which he said, "Praise the Lord, I have gone over the top and returned without a scratch."
He was a young man of exceptional strength and sweetness of character.

Word received from H. C. Smith details very full days in New York last week. Monday and Tuesday were spent in getting equipment and chasing from one department to another for classifications and instructions. The remaining days were spent at Columbia University attending classes from 8 a. m. to 9 and 9:30 at night. He was to be free from last Saturday evening until Monday morning, but no further news has been received.

Merchant Marine To Stage Big Recruiting Rally At Ball Game Packey McFarland and Del Crispi

The monster rally planned for the benefit of the Merchant Marine for last Sunday at the University of Santa Clara Grounds was postponed and will take place this coming Sunday.

A ballgame has been arranged between the "San Jose Bears" and the Marines. Besides the game there will be a couple of 4 round boxing exhibitions staged by the sailor boys in which Packey McFarland is scheduled to appear, so come on ball fans and boxing fans, we're going to celebrate. It's for a good cause and we need a bunch of boys in the Merchant Marines to "Carry On", so help along this new recruiting movement.

The program commences at 2:00 p.
m. at the Varsity grounds. "Dizzy" Leonard and Red Kerber will be the batteries for the "Bears" and Del Crispi, formerly of the champion Letterman Hospital team, will do the heaving for the Merchant Marines.

Saturday evening the boys will stage
a benefit show at the T. & D. theatre, where a big recruiting rally will be in full swing.

Magazines make very welcome Xmas
presents.

Fire Commissioners Make Explanations

Since several misleading reports have been circulated about the tax levied on the property within the fire district the Commissioners deem it advisable to make several points clear.

FIRST. The tax of $1.78 per $100, levied at this time will not be assessed again next year as some have stated.

SECOND. The $2,000 voted by the district was to be used by the commissioners for the purchasing of equipment, and according to the law cannot be used for anything but equipment, no portion of it can be used for maintenance.

THIRD. The additional $2,000
levied by the Fire Commissioners was for maintenance, such as chemicals, nozzles, gasoline, oils, grease and general repairs and upkeep. This would, of course, also cover any breakage or accidents to the fire department equipment.

FOURTH. At the time that E.
R. Kennedy was laying pipe for the fire commission he kindly consented to install the fire hydrants without charge to the district, if they could be put in at that time.
This was done, resulting in a saving of about $15 per hydrant or between $300 and $400 on the entire number installed.

FIFTH. All actions taken by the Fire Commissioners were on suggestions of the District Attorney's office and all papers are on record
and the public is invited to inspect same at any time.

Renewal of Motor Licenses Explained

The state motor vehicle department at Sacramento has adopted a new method of filing and issuing running permits for all automobile owners for the year 1919,
and desires to have owners who do not expect to dispose of their present cars before the first of the year follow the directions given in the accompaning
from that department.

The upper half of the Certificate of Registration issued to the owner at the time of his registration and he should be carrying same now in the metal container in the driver's compartment of his car.

The certificate is in two parts—the upper half of the certificate is termed the "Certificate of Registration" and the lower half is the "Notice of Transfer."

Don't cut the upper half of the certicate in two. It should be detached at the perforation, and the upper half (that is the Certificate of Registration) be sent in with the fee.

The department is not mailing out
Certificates of Registration for renewal.
Owners should return the Certificates of Registration previously issued to them,
with the fee.

Play's Real Meaning.

Play, according to Professor Pyle, is the revival of man's older self. It is the truest expression of his real self,
stripped of the latter-day formalities, dignities, habits and other artificial things with which "society" hedges about an otherwise free man. The middle aged man can be looked at either as a mold into which some super-Frankenstein has poured the youthful enthusiasm, hopes, aims, honesty,
candor and muscular play or as a madman obsessed with his own selfishness.

Excuse and Failure Synonymous.

An excuse is an admission of failure. It is a plea for leniency, for suspension of sentence. It is a step toward loss of self-confidence. It is the beginning of life failure. And that man or woman who expects success to crown his or her old age should go to any legitimate extreme to prevent the possibility of having to offer excuses for failure in execution. Excuses are the aliases of bankrupt lives. Achievement is difficult, but profitable in its large and gainful returns.—Milwaukee Journal.

Give Children Toys That Teach.

Toys which develop the imagination are better than intricate mechanical toys and elaborately dressed dolls.
Next to a ball, the very best plaything is a set of blocks, which is capable of being transformed into anything desired, from a train of cars to a pigeon house. Give a boy of five a hammer, some nails and a few pieces of wood and see what he can make—the results are often surprising. Children love to create, and the toy which they have made themselves will give a more lasting pleasure than the usual laboratory plaything bought ready-made.

Child Died of Old Age.

About two years ago a boy of seven died at Zurich of old age. His case was exceptionally unique, for he was the youngest member of a family who had won local repute as athletes. The oldest brother was a first-class boxer, while the younger had won many prizes on the sports ground. Doctors from all parts of Europe flocked to Zurich to try to diagnose the boy's malady and effect a successful cure,
but in vain.

Send Him a Paper

Said Private Jimmy Barkis as he chatted
with his mates,
"I wonder what they're doin' in the old
United States;
Is Ty Cobb hittin' doubles in the way
he used to do?
Is Speaker peggin' runners with that same old deadly throw?
I wish I had a paper from the home town, old or new,
An' could read about the people an'
the places that I know."

"I can't get interested in the Dai'ly Mail
or Times,
I want the home town paper with its latest local crimes.
I'm wondering who has married since
the day I marched away,
Who's been buried, since I left there.
Oh, it seems so long ago!
For a copy of the paper I would give up
six months' pay,
There's so much I'd like to read of an'
so much I want to know."

Said Private Jimmy Barkis, "It's a funny thing to me
But they seem to think a paper we don't ever want to see.
They write us cheerful letters an' they
send us things to wear,
They send us good tobacco, an' we're mighty grateful, too,
But they plumb forget a paper from the old town over there

Is a thing we'd never part with till we'd read it through an' through."
Make the boy a Christmas present of a six month's or year's subscription to the Press. Any one can give that without any "Label", "Red Cross Carton" or other requirement. He'll appreciate it.
